Adam Lambert, Master Plan

(*Ryan Tedder)
[ iTunes Bonus Track & AdamOfficial Bonus track:]
You run away from everything that you fear
So afraid, don't wanna be a part of it
You see the fake in everything that is real
You hate the paradox, you put us in a box
We don't define what makes us right or wrong
Waste of time, though we're just living it
I wanna see you, touch you, one on one
Won't stop until we're done
We've only just begun
We are the face of a new generation
We are the ones who have no reservation
Don't give a damn about your cold calculation
Welcome to the master plan
Don't care if you understand
Don't care if you understand
Welcome to the master plan
Your skin is burning at the sight of me
Your mask can't hide what you're thinking
Don't ask, don't tell, just take what you need
I'm an open book, so go on and take a look

We are the face of a new generation
We are the ones who have no reservation
Don't give a damn about your cold calculation
Welcome to the master plan
Don't care if you understand
Don't care if you understand
Welcome to the master plan
There's you, there's me, I feel your energy
I hope you'll see things ain't what they used to be
Look at the face, look at the face
We are the face of a new generation
We are the ones who have no reservation
Don't give a damn about your cold calculation
Welcome to the master plan
Don't care if you understand
Don't care if you understand
Welcome to the master plan
Don't care if you under-
Welcome to the master plan
Don't care if you understand
