Bryan Adams, Something To Believe In

It's funny what goes through your mind,
When you think of times you spent together,
Funny but when I think back why we broke up,
The reasons seem so small,
One day she's with me everything's fine,
Sayin' somethin' sounded like I love you,
The next week I see her walkin' down the street with someone else,
Probably sayin' the same thing,
It's doin' my brain in...

I got nothin - Goin' nowhere,
Tired of under achieving,
I keep searchin' - Nothin's workin',
It's not enough just to be breathin',
I need somethin' to believe in.

It's funny what goes on in your head,
When you think about the way things come together,
But now I think back why things had to change,
The reasons seem so small,
Cruel twist of fate keepin' me awake,
When I need to sleep to take away the hurtin',
But now I got time on my hands tryin' to understand,
But there ain't no explainin',
It's doin' my brain in...

I got nothin - Goin' nowhere,
Tired of under achieving,
I keep searchin' - Nothin's workin',
It's not enough just to be breathin',
I need somethin' to believe in.

I got nothin - Goin' nowhere,
Tired of under achieving,
I keep searchin' - Nothin's workin',
It's not enough just to be breathin',
I need somethin' to believe in.

Yeah, what about you?
I need somethin' - To believe in,
Yeah.
