Ed Sheeran, Beautiful People (feat. Khalid)

l. a. on a Saturday night in the summer sundown and they all come out lamborginis and theur rented hummers the party’s on so they’re heading downtown everybody’s looking foor a come-up and they wanna know what you’re about me in the middle with tow one I’m loving we’re just tryna figure everything out

we don’t fit in well
cause we are just ourselves
I could use some help grtting out of this conversation you look stunning, dear so don’t ask that question here this is my only fear
that we become

drop-top, designer cloths
what d’ you do?
and who d’you know?
inside the world of
champagne and rolled-up notes
pre-nups and broken homes surrounded but still alone let’s leave the party

that’s not who we are
we are not beautiful

droves for hours last night and we made it nowhere I see stars in your eyes when we’re halfway there I;m not fazed by all the lights and flashing cameras cause with my arms around you there’s no need to care
