Duran Duran, Dirty Great Monster

There's a Dirty Great Monster in this house we pretend that it's not there and there's no escape from it's it's grip but nobody seems to care Do you ever wonder?
about the days when we were staright but daddy got the hunger so much to hide

we learned to lie

So watch yourself in the hallway you're not supposed to know cause we're all afraid of each other we're the victims in this show Well do you ever wonder about the days when we were straight?

when daddy got the hunger too much to hide, we learned to lie silently outnumbered we made mistakes, when we were straight now we're all going under so with a sigh
we say goodbye
