Sarah Brightman, Winter Light

Hearts call, hearts fall,
Swallowed in the rain.
Who knows, life grows,
hollow and so vain.

Wandering in the winter light the wicked and the sane, bear witness to salvation and life starts over again.

Now the clear sky is all around you
Ahh ahh
Loves shadow will surround you all through the night.

Star glowing in the twilight
tell me true
Hope whispers and I will follow until you love me too

Ah ah ah

Now the clear sky is all around you
ahh ahh
all through the night.

tell me true
Hope whispers
and I will follow until you love me to Ah ah ah
