Godsmack, Shine Down

So tired sleeping through the day.
Blood-shot eyes and the sweat from my body.
And I picked my head up yesterday.
Found no reason or hope left inside of me.
But I still believe in immortal love.
And I know there's someone above.

Shine down
Don't take it away from me, no
And I know you know how, yeah
And shine down
Just give me a chance to feel it
It's taken forever to get me off the ground

A dead silence overwhelming me
Day and night takes its toll on my sanity
And I know I've been away too long
All these years I've been hiding
A feeling I'm coming strong!

But it still believe in immortal love
And I know there's someone that's up above
Show me a path to find my way
And give me a reason to pray

Shine down
Don't take it away from me, no
And I know you know how, yeah
And shine down
Just give me a chance to feel it
It's taken forever to get me off the ground

Shine down!
Shine down!
Shine down!
Shine down!
Shine down!
