The Kelly Family, Life Is Hard Enough

Im gonna get you Im gonna buy you a little horse you can ride
you can play all day my little child were gonna go out the fieds tonight youll be brave youll be strong one day Life is hard enough, baby try to see things my way
cant you see it in my face And now I see Im not the girl I used to be times have changed wheres the mercy and grace more and more theres no light inside of me all the pain
all the strain is killing me
dont walk away from my face Another storm, my shoes are worn its all too much, its all too long I close my eyes until the morn and hope it all just goes away Hmhmhm ...
dont walk away from my face
oh yeah
