Interference, Vaj Vaj

If Vaj Vaj left today
I wonder if I'd last
The bodies slow decay
But you cannot stop the time nor the rain
So blue because I love you

Horses stumbling
I saw the carriage stall
Where a face was turning
To hear the words that fall like the rain
So blue because I love you

Drag drag go the waves
Claw down a poisoned shore
The footsteps in the sand
Are gone for evermore like the rain
So blue because I love you

Mysteries are silent
Held in the air or stone
They stare at me like precious idols
From the temple of bone
Through to the rain
So blue because I love you
