Shawn Mullins, Valentine

from all that is in me i say these words with freedom on my tongue i give to you all of me in this crazy world our life has just begun no one can take that away it just keeps pouring out like juice form berries on the vine nowhere is where i would be without you with me
valentine
dont mind my preciousness i sing these words cause thats the way i feel many men have killed for less i'd do the same if harm was ever hurled your way i'll try to explain it just keeps pourin out like juice form berries on the vine
without you with me
and when the storms roll in and nothins goin right i'll be the one who holds you and rock you through the night no one can take that away it just keeps pourin out like juice from berries on the vine
without you with me
valentine
no one can take that away it just keeps pourin out
without you with me
