Adelphi, Jack Eats Much Cake

Tonight seems colder than the last
And the drive home seems far too long
I left so many months ago
But I'm still not home
I'm still not home
Staring at the yellow line
Singing songs in my head
I'm wishing you were here
You left before I did
But you're still not here (still not here)
Tell me that you won't leave
This time it's different I'm struggling to breathe
Tell me that he's just a friend
I guess I'm too scared to listen
Say goodbye one last time
It's not that easy losing love to one girl of your life
Two years, been more than that
It's not that easy loving your best friend
Loving me again
Tonight seems colder than the last
In my head I'm wishing you were here
I left after you did
But my heart's already here, already here
Tell me that you won't leave
This time it's different I'm struggling to breathe
Tell me that he's just a friend
I guess I'm too scared to listen
Say goodbye one last time
It's not that easy losing love to one girl of your life
Two years, been more than that
It's not that easy, loving your best friend
Loving me again
Say goodbye one last time
Lets go!
Say goodbye one last time
It's not that easy losing love to one girl of your life
Two years, been more than that
It's not that easy losing your best friend
Loving me again
