Professor Green, Avalon (feat. Sierra Kusterbeck)

It's time to even it up
I guess a round table weren't equal enough
You can't contain me with chains,
I'm release, I'm free any enemy is coming with me when I'm done Whatever's asked to me I perform
I rip through the rain into the eye of the storm
Still carrying the flame, eye of the torch
Failure comes at a price I can't afford

Never been half hearted, I put my all in Forfeited all just to answer my calling Wearing the scars of the wars that I fought in Should've been heading for the stars but I'm falling
I have your soul again
If you need them I'll be swimming in the lake
Oh baby don't look down
Just take the crown
We'll be kings forever, oh woah
Holding on together, oh woah
Feeling so much better, oh woah

When everything was wrong
And everything was gone
We ran to Avalon
I fought 'til I had no fight left Risked my death,
Walked with conviction in everyone of my steps,

My strengths water enough,
To wash away any of the stains on my rep,

Yeah.. I fought off vultures..
Went against odds when I was short and soldiers,

I asked not for my burden to be lightened but if I may have broader shoulders so as I may carry the weight all the doubt I had in me has been allayed.. so from now 'til the day I'm carried away

I will never walk around what stands in my way

Fuck if they ain't letting up 'cos neither will I
When I die from the ashes an eagle will rise
Long as my blade and my faith keep me alive
Fear is something that you will see in my eyes
We'll be kings forever, oh woah
Holding on together, oh woah
Feeling so much better, oh woah

When everything was wrong
And everything was gone
We ran to Avalon
We ran to Avalon
Fought for the crowd, fought down challengers
When my massacre was ordained I remained through pain forged my sword

Fought for the crowd, fought down challengers
When my massacre was ordained I remained
through pain forged my sword

My Excalibur
We'll be kings forever, oh woah
Holding on together, oh woah
Feeling so much better, oh woah

When everything was wrong
And everything was gone

We'll be kings forever, oh woah
Holding on together, oh woah
Feeling so much better, oh woah

When everything was wrong
And everything was gone
We ran to Avalon
