Amy Pearson, Lost Without Your Love

I count the days now where apart, and each hangs heavy on my heart,
I know it has to be this way, tomorrow happens gone away...
And every pathway leads to you, my heart has told me what to do, you give me strength to carry on,
but every footstep feels so wrong...
[Chours]:
You know that I'm lost without you,
stumbling in the dark,
You know that I'm lost without you,
lost without your love...
I'm lost without you,
I don't no where to turn,
and here in the dark I'm burning,
lost without your love...
I dream this carosel will stop,
and somehow I turn back the clocks,
to let him feel my heart again,
to let him kiss away this pain,
[Chours]:
You know that I'm lost without you,
stumbling in the dark,
You know that I'm lost without you,
lost without your love...
I'm lost without you,
I don't no where to turn,
and here in the dark I'm burning,
lost without your love...
A house is not a home,
and the heart can never fly,
and if I can only burn,
all the tears I couldn't cry...
[Chours]:
You know I'd be lost without you,
stumbling in the dark,
You know I'd be lost without you,
lost without your love,
I'm lost without you,
I have no where to turn...
and here in the dark im burning,
I'm lost, I'm lost without your love,
oah, woah,
I'm lost without you,
I'm lost without you,
I'm lost without you,
oah without your love...
