Wiz Khalifa, Ready For Love

You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love

Say you want that thing
Tired of playing, no, it ain't no game
No, I ain't the same
Grind for mine, so I can't complain
Don't know what they claim
I'm the one who get all the change
Look at all they face
Your time is something that I won't waste
Hop in my car, let's skate
I'll give you a call, let's date
Used to be a college girl
Now you grown and on your way
I'm just being honest, you're fucking with a baller
Let's spend a couple dollars, babe
Diamonds on my collar, babe
Maybe you should fall through

You say that you really ain't ready for this
And you say that I need to know how real it can get
And you say that you really wanna spend some time
And you say that you really hope you could be mine
And you say

You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love

Now you're ready
Anything that you want, you can get it
Got your own, so you never gotta settle
Want the boss, not the man in the middle
Not a little, it's kind of simple
See, I ain't local, I'm intercontinental
I'll send a Rolls-Royce your way to come and get you
I'm with my homeboys, we done sold out the venue
What's your favorite restaurant that you been to?
Order anything you want off the menu
I got room in the back, bring your friend too
You on me, me on her, what you into?
All the time, say I'm on your mental
You keep telling me 'bout what you went through
Don't gotta worry 'bout me, I'm not the issue
I'll take care of your heart, I'll be gentle

You say that you really ain't ready for this
And you say that I need to know how real it can get
And you say that you really wanna spend some time
And you say that you really hope you could be mine
And you say

You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
You say that you're ready for love
