Evan & Jaron, Andy Warhol (3:59 Of Fame)

was he a painter
underground major wasn't he conspiring with ralph nader sunday afternoons in central park
was he a writer
a freedom fighter
did he make your world a little brighter mondays after dark
andy warhol had to die
we don't know why
we don't know why
now he's painting passersby
in his corner of the sky was he a thinker
a heavy drinker
was nixon wrapped around his finger

I've heard crazy alli swear he was was he a controller
a hip rock n' roller did he realize that the war was over or let them go on just because (Chorus)
while lou's still walking on the wild side (Chorus)
now I've been working
nights at the diner
where a soup can serves as my reminder did he ever draw JFK
has anyone seen him
talked to him lately would you tell him that I'm waiting sunday afternoons in central park
