Die Trying, Runaway

No one said this would be easy
No one said that you weren't right
You always stop to think about the way things were
But what's good is gone
And now it's your time to try and run away

The last time you ran away
You said you'd be back again
It's the last time you run away
You're never going back to him, no

You lose yourself in the mirror it's clear
You use your makeup to cover your life
You always stop to think about the way
things were
But what's good is gone
And now it's your time to try and run away

The last time you ran away
You said you'd be back again
It's the last time you run away
You're never going back to him, no
'Cause the pressure's got you
And you can't fight no more, fight no more
'Cause the pressure's got you
And you can't fight no more, fight no more
The last time you ran away
You said you'd be back again
It's the last time you run away
You're never going back to him, no

The last time you ran away
You said you'd be back again
It's the last time you run away
You're never going back to him, no
'Cause the pressure's got you
And you can't fight no more, fight no more
'Cause the pressure's got you
And you can't fight no more, fight no more
The last time you ran away
You said you'd be back again
It's the last time you run away
You're never going back to him, no
