Indigo Girls, Color Me Grey

Author: Indigo Girls
Album title: Strange Fire
Crazy Game
----- ----
crazy game, i never should have started to play, but now you couldn't tear me away cause love is sweet, sweet baby, so good to you and so bad and i fear, the situations clear before my eyes, confusion wants to break me and it tries but i've been a little bit stronger from the start listen to my heart. chorus: cause if you're ever believing i'm thinking of leaving look to the moon, cause it's a fact she may go wandering about but she always comes shining back and it's true, i'll wait for you. you dry your tears, don't be thinking grey is here to stay. sometimes everything is in the way you're wanting to look at it, turn your view around, dry your eyes, eyes like yours should carry a smile, i haven't seen them sparkle in a while, give it one more try, dry your eyes. chorus:
Originally submitted by ?
Reformatted and extracted to a single lyric file by Doug Henkle