

10CC, Why Did I Break Your Heart

Inside my loneliness and sorting through the mess

I came across a bunch of snaps and letters

I found an eight by ten, taken God knows when

It took me back to when we found each other

How did I let it start

If I could only remember

Oh, Oh, why did I break your heart

The tender parts we played

I thought we had it made

The recipe for life, the perfect fusion

But when the love turned sour

I found the happy hour

But drinking for the world is no solution

How did I let it start

If I could only remember

Oh, Oh, why did I break your heart

Can't we go back to the start

I needed someone to tell me

Why did I break your heart

The cost of loving is a heavy burden

Somebody's gotta take the strain

The things we said would make a cover story

But who's gonna say

Who should take all the blame

We analysed ourselves

It didn't really help

No one to referee, no rhyme no reason

I thought we had the best

But when you flew the nest

My heart decided it was open season

How did I let it start

If I could only remember

Oh, Oh, why did I break your heart

Can't we go back to the start

I needed someone to tell me

Oh, Oh, why did I break your heart

Why did I break your heart.....
