Jimmie's Chicken Shack, Beautiful

it's over now still i can't explain it and that's who we are i wouldn't try to change a thing we missed the point but didn't dodge the scars see i've learned my lesson i'm all right so far

lost in your outer space see that i found my place i want to be where you are i

and that's beautiful that's beautiful and that's the beauty, of beautiful why won't you just stay the night over now you need to escape but you don't know how i want you to stay as free as you are i want you right now feels like i'm running in place you put the sun on my face while i'm shooting down stars and i can't wait for the day when the real you comes out it's in your eyes and i see that's it's bound to come out you say you know what you feel but the words all come out wrong like excuses you made up why you won't come out you bite your tongue 'cause you're scared that the truth might come out
