BrainStorm, Sunrise (Deep In Hell)

I saw the sunrise deep in hell
I saw heaven in the cell
I saw the touch, I saw the smell, well, well
I saw the neverending sea
I saw the mountains of liberty
I didn't see you and I did not see me
But I'm still looking for someone
Someone that's larger than life
Something that's sharp
Sharp as the knife
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it grows and it grows
First signals of love
I say well, I say well
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
I saw the wild, wild beast
I saw them run away or run at least
I saw the lovers and I saw the priest
But I'm still looking for someone
Someone that's larger than life
Something that's sharp
Sharp as the knife
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it grows and it grows
First signals of love
I say well, I say well
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it shines and it shines
First signals of love
I say well, I say well
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it grows and it grows
First signals of love
I say well, I say well
I saw the sunrise deep in hell
