Floorpunch, The Answer

I won't apologize for my actions
When I did whatI thought was right
You got what you deserved
The only answer was a fight
You brought it upon yourself
I did not ask for any of this
I know violence is never the answer
This time, I had to use my fists
You acted so surprised
How could you think that this couldn't happen
Everyday I heard something new
What did you think would be my reaction
