Burning Witches, Black Widow

Dark and skilful, bittersweet
Her appearance breaks your heartbeat
She is flawless and delicate
She's a huntress and never too late

Fragile and slender, agile legs
She makes you pray, she makes you beg
A darksome beauty, hides in the shadow
The gloom of the night lets her glow

Black widow!
Bow down to the queen of the night
When she steps from the shade into the bright
Unscrupulous man-eater, is her hight
You can't see her, just feel
The widow
Bow down to the swayer of Hades
She's the unchallenged and the greatest
In this world of destruction and darkened light
You can't see her just feel her bite

Mortal lover, brings you pain
If you try to disturb her domain
Death will infest your holy bed
She's not a killer but she'll leave you dead

Silent creep, spooky look
She attacks you with a barbed hook
A darksome beauty, hides in the shadow
The gloom of the night lets her glow

Black widow!
Bow down to the queen of the night
When she steps from the shade into the bright
Unscrupulous man-eater, is her hight
You can't see her, just feel
The widow
Bow down to the swayer of Hades
She's the unchallenged and the greatest
In this world of destruction and darkened light
You can't see her just feel her bite
