Guadalajara, Trampled Down Pathways

Why working in a job from nine to five so much to see so little time why always hurry up and wait slow down and then accellerate why flog a dead horse with work others can do lean back, nothing more, nothing less to do

If these are the footprints I should step in I probably wear the wrong shoes
To walk the trampled down pathways Societys mainstream wants me to Fathers invest vitality

That their companies work well While families just break apart Values are produce and sell Whats a pile of money for When there's no one to share with A lack of souvenirs of experiences