Mika, Erase

i shouldn't have called so late last night unsecure, out of my mind i shoudln't have left that message on your phone i shouldn't have said the things i said lookin for love we left for dead in a grave without a stone as soon as you hear my voice don't hesitate put your finger on the button

erase my love
i bet you can't erase my touch you're tryin' to replace a feelin' without a name
with somebody else's face
in your head

everything's cool
the rent is paid
the house is clean your bed is made but its a ghost town in your mind you never had time to go to sleep we'd wake up tangled in the sheets on a bed that we called home when the pain won't go away you might as well put your finger on the trigger

erase my love
in your head.

erase...
my love
coz you're tryin' to replace
erase...

tryin' to replace

erase...
