John Mayall's Bluesbreakers, You Must Be Crazy

You must be crazy woman
If you don t believe that I love you
When you cry and get unhappy
You don t know how it hurts me too
With a little understanding
We ll get to know each other s ways
With a little bit of patience
We d never have unhappy days
I love your lovemaking
Never knew it could be such a game
If you ever left me lonely
I know I d never be the same
You must be going crazy
If you don t believe that I m with you
If I had to live without you
I don t know what I d ever do
