Daan, Renegade

You cross the great divide
My sweet renegade
Stuck in the sand of time
The burning estate
Kissing the porcupine
A beauty mistake
Trust me you need a man to trust
Trust me you will give in to lust

Oh my sweet renegade
I bring a tune on a silver plate
One final serenade
For your shadow will slowly fade
Crawl back to the interstate
Try to forget the ones that you betrayed
Black jack of a single trade
Now hurry cause the hours late

I know from who you run
Looks just like you
Know why you load your gun like renegades do
Trust me, I know just where to hide
Trust me, the mud on your tracks

You ran a thousand miles
And a thousand to come
Trust me We know what wonder lies
Trust me behind the sun

Oh my sweet renegade
I bring a tune on a silver plate
One final serenade
For your shadow will slowly fade
Crawl back to the interstate
Try to forget the ones that you betrayed
Black jack of a single trade
Now hurry cause the hours late
