Kooks, Always Free

what is going on? I can't hear myself all this people sayin this is not the ending this is the beginning see my babygirl laying by my side she's so wonderful, wonderful inside see my baby's eye
I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away
I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away you can't understand, understand my soul it's the natural place I'd like to go no one else will know
I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away
I'm always free to get me right away
always free right away, always free right away
always free right away, always free right away
and I'm always free right away
I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away
