Lovex, Die A Little More

Why didn't I embrace
Those days you spent with me?
For now when I look back in time
It's too easy to see

While I lived my dream
I was seeking a fantasy
And here I am, all alone again

You're so far away from me

I died a little more
From the dream of your love
The voice inside me
Is pushing me too far
And your lover
To love you is so hard
I try so hard
But I've never been enough

I'm bound to stumble
Every time I try to fly
Can't get up, can't take a breath
I fall down, I cry

You're so far away from me

I died a little more
From the dream of your love
The voice inside me
Is pushing me too far
And your lover
To love you is so hard
I try so hard
But I've never been enough

Never been enough for you

I died a little more
From the dream of your love
The voice inside me
Is pushing me too far
And your lover
To love you is so hard
I try so hard
But I've never been enough

Never been enough
I'll never be enough
