Luckdown, My Wish

you're my wish, you're my dreams again.
one last chance to see your eyes.
but tragedy has scorned my life again.
i'd do anything to see your smile.

one last chance to see your eyes.
i'd do anything to see your smile.

anything, cause you're my dreams again.
i'd do anything to make you happy.
but truth is full of words with no meaning.
i would mold them into my being.

i'd do anything to see us happen.
for us to be, for things to be the same.
i'd do anything to leap while looking.

anything, cause you're my dreams again.
i'd say anything to make you happy.

my wish

anything, cause you're my dreams again.
