Switchfoot, Revenge

I'm the failure
I'm everyone's fool
And I'm losing my cool at the end
I'm the loser
My numbers come up
I've been hung up with thoughts of revenge
Revenge, revenge
Oh! Oh!

I watched you from my terminal view
As you struggled to rise to your end
I laughed hard at the insults we threw
As the weight of the world found revenge
Revenge, revenge
Oh!
Have hatred and gravity won
Oh! Oh!

The world hung upside-down
I drew first blood, I drew first blood
With my hate for a crown
I drew first blood, I drew first blood
Revenge

I watched heaven dyin' today
And I'm gonna die here tonight
I'm a villian, I deserve to be dead
I've been hung up for wreckin' my life
Revenge, revenge
Oh!

So I stopped for a moment
To look at the sun dying today
That's when the irony hit me
That this was revenge
That love had descended
And stolen our pain away

We consumed heaven's Son
And I drew first blood, I drew first blood
And my hate was undone
I drew first blood, I drew first blood
Revenge

Here's a story
How thief had been robbed
How a murder had stolen my rage
Think of me Lord
I'm a few breaths away
As my lungs finally rip from the cage
Revenge
Oh!
