My Superhero, Your Little Problem

what in the world are you doing you said to me that you were leaving you said it's a problem that you're having well I can't go where you have gone so what in the hell are you thinking I don't know you said to me that you've been thinking but I can't tell when you would be talkin' you said it's a problem that you're soling but I can't say what you have said so what in the hell are you saying
I don't know
you will not be alone... living out your dreams what in the world are you thinking you're sayin' to me that you are leaving I guess it's that problem that you're solving well I can't go where you have gone so
I don't know
you will not be alone...
