The Doobie Brothers, Tonight I'm Coming Throug

B. Lakind/M. McDonald

They wait and watch the border
As the night falls
Full moon throwin' shadows
They might see

For the moment
There ain't no breakin' through
Sometimes waiting is all a man can do
Hear me now

Don't know what's in front of me
I know how the heart rules
Can't say what the odds will be
I might win, I might lose
Tonight I'm comin' through

Through the night sounds ringin'
One lonely heartbeat
She must be wonderin'
What to do

Well, I can't call out
Can't get no message through
And I can't wait here
To see one more night through
Oh baby

Don't know what's in front of me
I know how the heart rules
Can't say what the odds will be
I might win, I might lose
Tonight I'm comin' through
In the midnight hour
Oooh I'm comin' through

Don't know what's in front of me
I know how the heart rules
Can't say what the odds will be
I might win, I might lose
Tonight I'm comin' through
I know how the heart rules
Can't say what the odds will be
I might win, I might lose

Tonight I'm comin' through
I know how the heart rules
Can't say what the odds will be
I might win, I might lose

Tonight I'm comin' through
Oooh I'm comin' through
Oooh
