Feeling Left Out, Best of Both Worlds

Followed your brake lights
Into the night
I kicked the curb
Til my foot felt right

Expectations will not be held as high
It's not the same you are not mine
Expectations will not be held as high
It's not the same
You are not mine

And you cried but did you mean it?
He's so ignorant to you being true
To enlighten him would frighten you
And your best of both worlds would collide
So let what is true subside
Enjoy the free ride
Enjoy the free ride

Hide from the sunlight
I'll fight the sleep tonite
With a new day comes a new life
I'm scared to open my eyes

Expectations will not be held as high
It's not the same you are not mine
Expectations will not be held as high
It's not the same you are not mine

You cried but did you mean it?
He's so ignorant to you being true
To enlighten him would frighten you
And your best of both worlds would collide
So let what is true subside
Enjoy the free ride
Enjoy the free ride

You cried but did you mean it?
He's so ignorant to you being true
