The Kingston Trio, Remember The Alamo

Jane Bowers

A hundred and eighty were challenged by Travis to die. A line that he drew with his sword when the
"The man who would fight to the death cross over but he who that would live better fly,"
And over the line stepped a hundred and seventy-nine.

Chorus:
Hi! Up! Santa Anna, we're killing your soldiers below, so the rest of Texas will know and remember

Jim Bowie lay dyin', his powder was ready and dry. From flat on his back, Bowie killed him a few in
And young Davy Crockett was smilin' and laughin'. The challenge was fierce in his eye.
For Texas and freedom, a man more than willin' to die.

(Chorus)

A courier sent to the battlements, bloody and loud. With words of fare well in the letters he carried w
"Grieve not, little darlin', my dyin' if Texas is sovereign and free. We'll never surrender and ev

(Chorus)

Remember the Alamo! Remember the Alamo! Remember the Alamo!