Feltbeats, Father Of Mine

And father of mine, please bring back the times
And father of mine, remind me of my childhood times
And father of mine, say again feel like Ive missed your advice, please
And father of mine, divorce had its price
I havent seen you quite as much as Id like
Its my fault as well
I just get caught up in my life
And right now I need your advice
Guidance with my life
Open some doors please show me some more
You can beat me at your favourite sport just like you did before.
And father of mine, please bring back the times
And father of mine, remind me of my childhood life, oh
And father of mine, say again fell like Ive missed your advice, please
And father of mine, divorce had its price
And so through all my pain and tears Im still holding onto those years
And so through all my pain and tears Im still holding onto those years
And father of mine, please bring back the times
And father of mine, remind me of my childhood lifetimes
And father of mine, say again fell like Ive missed your advice
And father of mine, divorce had its price
