Novalis Deux, Ghosts Of Europe

There is a ghost over Europe, over your land
No words misunderstood
There is a ghost over Europe, over your land
No words misunderstood

Run away alone, run away from home
Broken glasses, reflect the sunset
Run away alone, run away from home
A heep of rumble, smoke blackens the moon

You and me

You dream of home, you dream alone
Burning ruins, flames from hell
You dream of home, you dream alone
A flower garden, this is your home

You and me
