Gainsae, Never Change

The sun rises on a new day
And I can't see you through the haze
And if I know you I know you will never change
Until you subside, subdued and rearranged

You'll never change

I know you'll be there
I know you see it
I know that you need it
so won't you give it to me

You will never change
I know that you won't ever change

The sun always rises on every new day
And I still can't see you through all the haze
And if I know you like I do
I know you'll never change
Even though you've subsided, subdued and rearranged

You'll never change

I know you'll be there
I know you see it
I know that you need it
So won't you give it to me

You will never change
I know that you won't ever change
