Gareth Gates, One And Ever Love

it's cold outside
so understand
if i don't hang around to wave i'll say goodbye and kiss your hand and then get on with being brave but don't expect to wipe away the tears 'cos you know they belong. In someone else's winter way. Before i ever came long and tried to melt the snow

and tried to melt the snow

Chorus
and meanwhile i'll be here and i'll pray to God above that someday you might learn again. it's you i'm dreaming of
and meanwhile i'll be here
that someday you might turn again to me.
your one and ever love

if i don't hand around and cry i'll let you go without a word and then be bluer than the sky and i'll try not to watch you go and i'll try not to stand alone behind you in the snow

one and ever carry me away
to a road that doesn't lead to here so i don't have to say on all the days you won't appear that

that someday you might turn again to me
