Renton, You are in charge

You are in charge of all your thoughts
Cast them away and youll be lost
When you jump out of the window
Before make sure its the first floor
There are some things that make you sad
And all these things you should forget
All dirty pictures which run thru your head
Dont let them drive you, dont get obsessed
The more you know the less you believe
A bit unlogic but let you breath
Sudden eruption it is from what you hide
Settle it right now, if this is working fine
