

16 Horsepower, Splinters

self sent a twister
a tearin' after me
gonna bust my house to splinters yes an' take all that's dear to me you say you saw it comin' yeah but still you did not flee i was too weak i couldn't move held by growth of a tree an' yes i fell upon that rock i did not die jus' badly broken an' in time my healin' it will come yeah by the words that he has spoken i fell upon that rock who is it now that loves you straight in the front door an' crooked out the back yeah what is it now you're a slave to on your knees out in your shack i fell upon that rock yeah
he's beyond the shadow
of your doubt an' mine
he's no man's opinion
he is truth divine
done bust my house to splinters yeah an' took all that's dear to me
what is it now that you pray to as your world begins to crack
i fell upon that rock yeah
he's no man's opinion
he is truth divine
an' in time my healin' came yeah by the words that he had spoken
