Runemagick, The Black Wall

where is the ancient time carved in our eternal sign

i can't look thru the black wall i can't touch the world beyond memories color the emptiness but still the wall is black

where is the hungry flame that once painted the future ...only an empty shell of me remains where is the eternal path that was meant for the future walk

the longing of the eternal fire grows stronger and stronger maybe one day the wall will fall and the flames will be together forever
