Guided By Voices, Doctor Moon

Who's the man in the longer robe?
Took the money and he tries to run
Take your money and you want to go
All the running and you know where to go
What did you see when you walked to the road?
What did you see when you walked to the road?
No... no...
Who's the man in the longer robe?
Did you take it for the longest one?
Did you run him along the load?
Did you stay along the road?
Did you, on your feet, to the left
In your rut, in your life, oh no!
Did you try to run?

No, no...woah
On the run
Now lay a while, baby
What then was it in your long brown hair?
Who's the man you're layin' with, heh?
He comes standing like a long tall Indian
And we see that it's really just there
Oh, when you go up
It's not my affair
Wait for me one more hour
Wait for me one more hour
Wait for me one more hour
