Halo Friendlies, Sellout

I wear it so well,
No one has to tell what is inside
but once i was a servant, once i was a sucker
i was such a sellout but i dont want to tell you twice but were you lost or were you found?
and do you know just where youre going?
it went to your head

cause ill teach you right ill teach you right get into the light itll be so nice and ill teach you right
ill teach you right
you know everything and everythings a lie until its proven true by you but can you escape the passions moving out of place and turning upside down and i dont want to point the blame so come out from this prideful game
take my hand and come inside

will you ever learn the ways of the world cause i want to win your heart and take you to another place you never thought or could dream of
