

16th Avenue, Contagious

Verse

Has the cold thawed your heart again?
Can it still beat and bleed just like others people can?
Can emotions be seen in your eyes?
Is it just another sense in your body, that's burned and died.
Contagious.

Chorus

Everyday was the same she'd come over,
We'd laugh all day, than we'd kiss, and I'd hold her.
something's changed on the way, now she's not okay.
She never talks anymore it frustrates,
when she does it's complaints and she's angry,
How many times can I say that I'm sorry.

Verse

You're not the same girl that I knew,
You're jaded, serated, the devil's here, and now he's inside of you.
And I pray one day you'll come back to me.
At the sky I stare, with my hand's in the air, wish and believe.

Interlude

You're contagious, and I'm infected again.

Outro

You're contagious, and I'm infected again.
You know that I'm sorry
