Hit The Lights, At 6:00, We Go Live

so hold me close but don't get too comfortable this might be the last time you hear my voice is this goodbye? or is it goodnight? i promise to call if you promise not to cry because every tear you waste on me isn't worth the air i breath let's make the best of what we've had and would you care if i don't come back?

can you hear me scream your name?
hear me from a thousand miles away?
can you hear my scream your name?

so let's get this show out on the road who cares if we don't know where to go well this is goodbye, give me a kiss goodnight i promise to call if you promise me you'll cry

let's make the best of what we've had i promise you i won't come back
can you hear me scream your name?
can you hear my scream your name?

i'm leaving town tonight and i want to hear something from you anything from you
