The Dresden Dolls, The Sheep Song

red brush washing up look I made america
hush hush
don't don't rush and don't try to care too much brown wine turpentine somethings musn't be combined sleep now

never fear
all your animals are here

counting sheep
I lay me down to sleep but I see a sheep that will not leave from the back they catch him in a trap hit his head and send him off to bed cutting by numbers is kinder invest in one with a silencer all of the studies say if they're calm when they die then they taste better

invest in the one with the silencer

olive sky
I am crying all the time there there
don't despair
we will find your sheep somewhere
