Tiger Lou, The Wake/Hooray Hooray working keeps me sane I know how many ships can one man row close my eyes drain for blood leaches brought the cleansing flood hooray, hooray

patching up my broken bones filling jars with kidney stones loosing weight do you wanna see cancer taking a crack at me

roses around two oak tree hearts burn me up and spread the parts lucky you there's cake and wine first we mourn then we dine

hooray, hooray
