Warner Mack, I'd Give The World (To Be Back Lo

I'd give the world to be back loving you
So long I've hid what should be in the open
When I'd pretend my love for you was through
But all the time the hurt within kept growing
And I'd give the world to be back loving you
The days go by and I always end up dreaming
And going back to the love that we once knew
It may be wrong but I'm letting go this feeling
Cause I'd give the world to be back loving you
I know the world's not mine I'm just passin' through
But what's left of my little time I'd give it to you
Everything I ever own or hope to do yes I'd give the world to be back loving you
Oh I'd give the world to be back loving you
