Judith Owen, Creatures Of Habit

Do you know this place,
Do you know this face,
Do you see the space i live in now?
Well i've done my best,
But i've failed the test,
Cause i see the pain upon your brow.

And
We're just creatures,
Creatures of habit now,
We're all creatures,
Creatures of habit, we are

Did i say it wrong,
Did i come on too strong,
Did i pull the rug from beneath you now,
It's a lame excuse,
But please don't confuse me,
With a girl who does not exist now

And we're just creatures,
Creatures of habit now,
We're all creatures,
Creatures of habit now.

La la la la la

We take, we pay;
We leave, we stay;
We lick our wounds and start again.
We live on hope;
We learn to cope;
Till the ones' we've hurt come home again;
(so please come home)

And if i turn you wild;
If i turn you to a child;
With words so harsh, they break your will
If i turn you back to the darkest days,
Please remember
That angry heart is still.

Creatures,
Creatures of habit now,
We're all creatures;
Creatures of habit;
Habit now.

La la la la la

Creatures;
Creatures of habit now
