Kate Alexa, Nobody Knows

I know yesterday as gone,
And im thinking bout tomorrow,
How will i be, will the clouds begin to fade, Will i drown my self in sorrow, who will i be,
and nobody knows were will i be were will i be and nobody knows our destiny our destiny ive been waiting for a light to shine on me shine on me shine on me, as the time begins to change and im thinking bout the future were will i be, i no every body wonders What love really means what love really means and no body knows were will our be were will i be
and nobody knows our destiny our destiny a light to shine on me shine on me shine on me all they do is think about what it is we life without time to open up my eyes think about the present time ive had enough of wasting time thinking about tomorrow when all i have is here and nowwwwwwwwwww and nobody knows were will i be were will i be we will i be and nobody knows our destiny our destiny our destiny ive been waiting for a light to shine me shine me shine on me shine on me shine on me
