Magnum, Walking The Straight Line

Love don't come easy, so don't treat it light
Remember there's two sides, you'll make it all right
No magic potion, there's no way to tell
Could be like heaven, might be like hell

You're tempted to turn round, comes to us all
Moments of pleasure you're bound to recall
One bad decision, that's all it will take
Something you treasured to something you break

Walking the straight line
Hope it's the same with you, baby
Walking the straight line
That's all that you've got to do

Love don't come easy, so don't treat it light
Remember there's two sides, you'll make it all right
There's no magic potion, no way to tell
Could be like heaven, might be like hell

Walking the straight line
Hope it's the same with you, baby
Walking the straight line
That's all that you've got to do
